FOR ENGLISH TEACHING PROFESSIONALS IN FRANCE

Teaching Times

TESOL FRANCE

Autumnal Offerings

As the TESOL France event of the year draws ever closer, the Events Team is, as we speak, putting the final touches to its outstanding programme. If I'm not mistaken we've a record 50 talks to offer you this year. The provisional programme for the 29th Annual Colloquium can be found on pages 14 and 15. Here's your chance to begin planning your event right away. A quick plug for my own talk on Saturday which is a must for anyone thinking of setting up their own Regional Branch of TESOL France.

Pending the imminent arrival in November of David Crystal OBE, the Teaching Times takes a light-hearted look at the man and his work. While local trainers and winners of a British Council ELTon, Stuart Wiffin and Helen Gibbons, are put on the spot by our own Bethany Cagnol. Eric Halvorsen starts us off with the first of a two-part interactive article on Task Based Learning for One-to-One classes. For those of you concerned by recent reports of unqualified teachers being unleashed on unsuspecting collégiens, then read Stephen Scott Brewer's article on the changes to the teacher training programme in France. And talking of regional branches – take a peak at Jane Ryder's diary entry for 25/9, the evening of the launch of TESOL France Strasbourg!
